At TIS,

we believe experiential learning allows our students to understand the theory in the classroom to practice across the real world, where personal experiences and reflections add real meaning and a sense of purpose to each student, while making the world a better place.

Hot Off the Press

TIS Infirmary Services now have a visiting doctor coming three times a week on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

Good health is a critical factor in ensuring balance.

Thought for the Week

.....
It's not about perfect. It's about effort. And when you implement that effort into your life every single day - that's where transformation happens. That's how change occurs. Keep going. Remember why you started.

The Magic of IB

I hope you enjoyed last week's edition of the TIS Bulletin. It was powerful reading, as we expect on a weekly basis, with the various aspects of the IB Programmes at TIS on full display.

While G11 students were involved in three days of Service Learning 'all over the place', our MYP students were involved on a grade-by-grade basis with their Interdisciplinary Units (IDUs). The impact on G7-11 students was enormous. What was so special? It was the level of student engagement and at the end of each day, students and teachers were exhausted.

At the same time, G10 students completed their Personal Project and the variety of and the enthusiasm for the many initiatives have been simply stunning.

G8 students have been working busily on their Community

Do the right thing, even when no one
is watching.

It's called integrity.

Making Us Proud

- Kwabena Osei-Ababio for his outstanding project on the solar system.
- David Safo for his Style for Charity Personal Project.
- Lady-Margaret Hagan for her Breast Awareness Campaign Personal Project.
- Janine Apreku for her Struggles Personal Project.
- Janelle Owusu for her Silent Killer Diseases Personal Project.
- Joseph Agyemang and Peter Arthur for their CAS Project on plastic pollution.
- Edward Ojualope, Jerry Huang, Abdoul-Manane Yandja, Ezra Anim-Somuah, Charlene Akwei, Ryan Lokko, Terry Tenge, and Nana Hussein for their outstanding G7 IDU assembly performance at Thursday's weekly assembly.
- Nadia Bawumia for her amazing presentation on Self Love/Peer Buddy.
- Cecil French, Rifau Toose and Jeffrey Adjagar for reaching out to the Tema Ridge School for their G8 Community Project, Aqua with You.

Projects and again you witness some powerful learning experiences and initiatives as part of their service and action.

Please save this date: Friday, 6 March (Independence Day).

This is TIS Project Day when the Personal (G10) and Community (G8) Projects will be exhibited at the TIS Sports Complex from 1.00 - 5.00pm. It will be super-special, so do not miss this event.

Sports, Exercise and Health Science

It has been most pleasing to see the large number of students in Grades 9 and 10 who choose Physical Health Education as one of their subject options for their final two years of MYP. PHE is not just playing football! It's theory and practice and the students are serious about their performance.

Due to this high level of interest at MYP level, TIS will introduce Sports, Exercise and Health Science as a new Group 4 subject for G11 next year. This will be great news for students who wish to pursue further studies in this field when they head to university.

I appreciate your support.

EDUCATION FOR A BETTER WORLD

PYP CORNER

EARLY YEARS

Service Learning with DP Students

Last week at the Early Years Centre, we had the pleasure of learning with Grade 11 students in a three-day engagement.

In small groups, the Early Learners participated in 'family' activities with the student teachers. They also enjoyed an energetic aerobic session, where learners used their bodies to create musical patterns. Following this activity, students viewed a short family movie, after which they represented their family sizes in exceptionally creative pictographs. In addition, they created colourful pictures depicting the roles of selected family members. They then exhibited their work through oral presentations, in order to achieve the learning outcome, 'Responding to dramatic ideas through spoken, visual, auditory and kinesthetic media.'

Below, the student teachers are working with learners to complete various tasks.

Thank you
TIS DP 1
students for your active service over the past 3 days in our Early Years
program.

Numeracy and literacy interdisciplinary engagement.

PIC•COLLAGE

DP 1 students help us create living graphs using real objects.

We are happy to share some reflections our visiting student teachers made during their three-day stint with us.

I wasn't expecting that the children would be able to know the IB Learner Profile attributes and relate them to their learning. Today was a great day, it was better than yesterday. This is because I learnt about new things and their names and had the opportunity to teach. When I went back to school, I researched the PYP program. – Kwasi

They know more than I thought they would know. They asked a lot of questions. We helped them with art and craft. In Ghana, teaching is not a good job. But being here has changed my mind because there is satisfaction with the job. I would like the chance to form a nice friendship with the Primary School. I'm sad I have to finish tomorrow. I wish I could stay. – Nestalia

We had the opportunity to teach video-incorporated Math and transport. Today I felt energetic and enthusiastic. I like it that the children reflect and get back to participating positively. I had not considered teaching because Mum is a teacher, but this experience has changed my mind. I think that peer teaching would be great for our Secondary and Primary collaboration. Tomorrow will be sad but great because we will teach again. I wish it was a whole week.

- Jady

It was very interesting to be around young children and interact with them as I have not had this opportunity before. PYP is more interactive. I'm learning. In the other schools, it seems that the teachers are at work to get paid, it's not the same at TIS PYP. – Alberta

Here are reflections from two student teachers who engaged with Primary learners.

Primary education influences the mind. This is the formation of the mindset. I feel that giving them the right guidance is important. Children are born with the ability to think creatively, but some school systems diminish their minds. I think that the IB programs allow their creativity to grow. – Bennett

I realized that I like handling children. I like the research skills they had. Their knowledge for their age level is advanced. I was not expecting them to have such research skills. We need a lot of patience for children to develop. The children were able to collaborate together. The PYP is a very challenging curriculum for teachers and children. Children should participate in the inter school competitions. – Darius

From reflections on their experience with the learners, these DP student teachers are clearly eager to share in children's learning journey. They expressed interest in returning to assist and learn with the students through their CAS projects, which is a DP requirement. We look forward to collaborating with those who opt for school-based oriented CAS projects.

Our DP students were, however, not the only members of the School Family who joined us this week. To enable learners to participate in performing and creating music, both collectively and individually, we invited Uncle Tony to share his drumming skills and engage children in creating music with drums. It was a joy to see both young and old dance to pulsating renditions of popular children's rhymes, poems and songs. After such an experience, our Early Learners are prepared to perform new creative music and dance with their parents during our next Unit Celebration.

Through these learning engagements, students had the opportunity to take turns, as well as listen respectfully to others. These are essential skills for positive and effective interactions, on our way to becoming internationally-minded, lifelong learners.

LOWER AND UPPER PRIMARY

Use of ICT in PYP

Right from Early Years to Upper Primary, ICT is an indispensable tool in the PYP curriculum framework. The use of technology supports learning in different ways, for instance, during PowerPoint presentations, research tasks, quizzes and games. It is also relied upon at various times, such as during inquiry, morning assemblies, and play time. Through technology, inquiry is optimised, understanding is deepened and more opportunities are created for further learning. Primary students are always excited when they have to use ICT for learning. On this platform, they are exposed to online teaching tools like Mindmeister, Coggle, Padlets and a lot more, all of which are employed in their presentations and collaboration.

Students enjoy research and collaboration time.

ICT being used by students to guide their project on simple machines,

A Mathematics lesson supported by ICT in the Onyx class.

Unit Assembly time by the Onyx Class.

An online game like Kahoot is also used during the learning process. This game is very flexible because it can be used in all disciplines, making learning fun and collaborative, especially when students play in groups. It is a great tool for assessing students' understanding at the end of a lesson.

Opals enjoying Kahoot time with students from the Main Campus.

Students also make use of online learning tools like Storyjumper and Storyweaver, where they write and post their personal stories for other people to access and enjoy. This helps them in their English lessons. The Hoodamaths app is also a great tool used by Primary students for their Math practice. Another online learning tool is Edmentum Exact Path, which is used by all students. Learners go on the platform to solve questions at different levels in Math, Reading and Language. This equips them for success as they work at their own pace and progress along their unique learning paths. Again, both learners, teachers and parents rely on ManageBac for the seamless flow of student-related information, be it announcements, assignments, ongoing assessment or semester reports.

Below, students are having collaboration and personal research time, as well as working on their individual projects.

Clearly, ICT is the kingpin which drives inquiry and expression in the PYP.

GHANAIAN SIGN LANGUAGE

Inquiry into Machines and the Solar System

In addition to simple machines and technological changes, Opal Class is exploring the solar system. To ensure students gain in-depth understanding and make connection with the Unit, they are learning how to fingerspell and sign simple sentences about machines and the solar system.

In the pictures below, learners are sharing their signing skills with colleagues.

So, everything students are expected to do matches closely to the Dukies program. Strategically, it places our students at another level when it comes to their university applications. Importantly, the Dukies program is about the individual challenging themselves. Challenge, I believe, is one of the most important words for today's world. ## HOSTEL NEWS

A Once-In-A-Lifetime Opportunity

At the boys' hostel, boys live to learn since they spend large parts of their day engaged in learning activities. But they also "learn to live" by shouldering the responsibility that comes with greater independence.

Boarding Schools shape lives for the better. The experience leaves a positive impression on students.

Reflection From Francis Hostel

It brings Sanjeevan and I nothing but great joy knowing that we were selected to be your Francis Hostel Executives to provide harmony, comfort and an ecstatic environment for our boys.

During the past few weeks since we have been elected into office, it has been a smooth ride because of the support and cooperation we attain from our fellow brothers in the hostel.

Our boys are always on top of their game. They leave the hostel on time, their working plots are spotless and their attitudes and personalities are undeniably charming.

Let's not forget about the Francis Hostel's backbone, Mr Gabriel Atseku and Mr Dennis Akortah. These two amazing people always keep us on check, whenever we ought to seek help and advice, they are the people we think about first.

Nonetheless their experiences and diligence serves as a support to the hostel, because they're able to think and critically analyse situations to help the boys remain comfortable and to stick together.

There is definitely no coincidence in the phrase, “We boys stick together”, because we look out for one another and help others out when in need of assistance.

Finally, when we all assemble, our aura is what distinguishes the Francis hostel from any other.

CAS/Service Learning

When students allow the world at large to be their classrooms, learning becomes relevant and gratifying. The community becomes their classroom as they practise what they have learnt and reflect on their experiences. They are empowered as agents of change and are inspired in the learning.

Over the coming weeks we will be sharing highlights from these experiences through the CAS/Service Learning trips. The purpose of this collaboration is to allow students to step out of the classroom and learn by doing and reflecting. Students engaged with seven different institutions for the purpose of their CAS/SL Investigation, Planning and Implementation.

These opportunities help students make connections from their various academic disciplines to the real world. Knowledge application and critical thinking are very important skills in today’s world. Service Learning also enables students to find their passion through experiential learning.

Group 4 chose to spend these three days at the TIS Primary School Campus. I am confident that the bond created will last a lifetime. On Monday morning the little ones at the Primary School could not understand why their new teachers from our Main Campus were not around. “Our learners were sad to walk into their learning space today without the student teachers. The first question asked was, “Where are our student teachers?” – Dr Ken Darvall

The Primary team asked to visit the Main Campus on Thursday. They attended the Weekly Assembly, with Margaret, the Early Years Leader joining us with her usual positive energy, along with her representatives from the Early Years and Primary classes. What a pleasant surprise. Their mission was to award each participant of the SL collaboration with the Principal’s Award for their Outstanding Service Learning Experience. Can you imagine?? Getting the “Principal’s Award? That created an amazing buzz in the hall. Students whispering to each other and, of course, the recipients super proud and I believe eager to do more.

A huge thank you to Dr Ken Darvall, for this kind gesture and endless support. When reflecting on his experience at the PYP, Ato (G11), one of the recipients said, “I want to develop a meaningful collaboration with the TIS Primary School campus, students and staff. The children are so passionate about learning and everyone is engaging and friendly.”

‘You are the change you seek’. Keep learning and growing, Alberta, Bennett, Chibuikem, Darius, Jady, Ato, Kwasi and Nestalia.

Weekly Assembly – What an electrifying assembly, with a variety of engaging presentations. To begin with such a flawless team of presenters, Group 3.

The G7 IDU students’ presentation, taught us about Interdisciplinary learning, when Music, PHE and Language Acquisition come together.... We innovate, creativity is developed and students have so much fun learning. The level of confidence by the presenters and those who performed was incredible.

Check next week's bulletin for more updates on today's assembly, Female Mutilation Awareness, Self-Love by Peer Buddy and much more. Yes, it's fast and furious and super fun.

TIS Master Chef – Cooking Classes – “It was absolutely an awesome experience during my first cookery class at the Project Centre’s well equipped kitchen. The enthusiasm of these teenagers brought me great satisfaction. I cannot wait for another opportunity next week. The future is truly bright.” Sophia Dumakor

COUNSELLORS' CORNER

“Success in itself – ‘as a man thinketh, so is he.’ The International Baccalaureate Diploma Programme makes you life-ready. It will be a regrettable decision to fail and a waste of money and time. We did it and know you can excel too! DP2s, you need to have a hunger for studies to challenge yourself.” ~Gerald Kusi (Head Boy- IB Class of 2003)

DP2s

“Education is your surest bet; it opens your mind to grow, think and do things differently. Appreciate the journey.” ~Elom Tettey-Tamaklo (IB Class of 2013)

At this critical moment of your life, DP is all you have, so avoid these;

- ✓ Friends who waste your time to talk about fashion, entertainment, and sports. The DP final exams have no questions on ‘Keeping up with the Kardashians or Cardi B.’ Just study!
- ✓ Friends who complain and nag about everything. It’s negative energy. It saps your joy!
- ✓ Friends who do not like studying and never want to talk about academics.
- ✓ Refusal to see your teachers for help because they might have corrected you in a manner you didn’t like. Mistakes are proof that you are learning. Anger and bitterness spoil the heart, stopping you from enjoying good things. If you are upset about something get it off your chest. Talk to your teachers.
- ✓ Being overly defensive over things that don’t matter. The reality is you will be done with TIS in a couple of months. Academics come first!

- ✓ Playing the blame game while you sit there doing nothing. “A person that blames destiny for everything and does nothing himself can never succeed in life.” ~Anurag Prakash Ray
- ✓ “Nobody who ever gave his best regretted it” ~ Halas.
- ✓ Life is how you make it!

TIS College Guides: What Do We Do?

Every year TIS students receive 100% university placements into reputable accredited universities in Ghana and abroad with generous scholarships. University applications go beyond academic grades. The quest for new discoveries, innovative minds with resourceful attitude, creative spirit, initiative, grit, intellectual curiosity, leadership skills, and many others are what universities look out for in any prospective applicant. At TIS, the “College Guidance department is the engine room” (quote by TIS parent '19). We ensure the smooth transitioning of students from high school to the respective universities and with the solid foundation of ethical and soft skills development, character formation deliberately integrated into the curriculum. With personalized guidance right from day 1, we find best-fit universities for students as their path to their future careers. Doing what we do best we ensure that no student is left behind!

Our Roles include but are not limited to:

- ✓ Teaching Life Skills
- ✓ Organising university visits on TIS campus and college tours outside of school
- ✓ Subject selections and career guidance
- ✓ University selections and the application process

- ✓ Scholarship and financial aid application processes
- ✓ College essay and personal statement workshops
- ✓ Standardized test registration support (TIS is a Test Centre for SAT, ACT, Pre-ACT & PSAT)
- ✓ Mock interviews and many more...

I really enjoyed it because it’s a school that I’ve been following for a long time and I show keen interest, so I followed everything they said word for word. I also had a conversation with the admissions rep. which gave me a broader insight and helped me figure out what I really wanted to do.” ~Arnold Gyateng DP1*
